Austin Landis

Software Developer
Lincoln, Nebraska, United States

Summary

I am a software developer with two and a half years years of work experience in the Salesforce Commerce Cloud space. In those two and a half years I am proud to say that I have been on some amazing development teams. Those teams have provided services such as multi-cloud implementations with the main focus being B2C, implementing a proprietary cartridge that improves upon base SFRA. With no shortage of experience in a staff augmentation role where the main product was already in place and I was moved onto the project to help implement a new custom features and/or lend a hand in bug fixes.
